The Only Thing Different About This Advertisement is the Faces

When this advertisement first appeared about a year ago, five other fine young When this advertisement first appeared about a year ago, in Future Farmers of men appeared in it. They were the state officers of the Future Farmers of men appeared. Their terms of office have expired—five other splendid young rural gentlemen have succeeded them. So only the faces in this advertisement have changed—it is published again during this 23rd year of the FFA to help publicize the praiseworthy creed of the organization.

"I Believe . . .

This is "FFA Week" when 12,100 Alabama members of the Future Farmers of America will observe the organization's 23rd anniversary. They will re-affirm their faith in a creed which states: "I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds . . . in the promise of better days through better ways . . . challenging . . .

"I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others . . . "I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so-for others as well as myself . . . "I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best tradi tions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task." The membership of Future Farmers of America consists of boys and young men 14 to 21 years old who, under able educational leadership, are studying vocational agriculture in approved high schools throughout the Nation. The foundation upon which Future Farmers of America is built includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, co-operation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism We are happy to publish this advertisement in recognition of the fine efforts of the membership of the Future Farmers of Amer-ica and their leaders and teachers. Alive today

...like so many other Americans who went to their doctors at the first sign of one of cancer's danger signals. By showing Americans what they can do to protect themselves and their families against cancer, the American Cancer Society is saving thousands of lives today. By supporting science and medicine in the search for the causes and cures of cancer, the Society hopes to save countless more tomorrow. Do you know the seven common danger signals that may mean cancer: (1) any sore that does not heal (2) a lump or thickening, in the breast or elsewhere (3) unusual bleeding or discharge (4) any change in a wart or mole (5) persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing (6) persistent hoarseness or cough (7) any change in normal bowel habits.

To guard yourself, and those you love, against cancer, call the nearest office of the American Cancer Society, or address your inquiry to "Cancer" in care of your local

What this Statement Does Not Show

THIS FINANCIAL STATEMENT—Liberty National's report to the holders of its 3 million policies-while made up of some big figures-does NOT tell the whole story. It does not show the "double duty" performed by Liberty National dollars. In the most important sense, these funds represent the resources which serve to guarantee that obligations to policyowners will be met faithfully and promptly. In addition, until the funds are paid over to policyowners, they are loaned to people and businesses who have need for the funds and consist of over 13,500 individual mortgage loans on homes, apartments and commercial buildings-bonds issued by electric, gas, telephone and water utility companies-loans to railroads and industrial companies of all types-bonds issued by the Federal Government, the states, counties and cities-and real estate held both for investment and Company use. Life Insurance dollars have played an important part in the growth and development of the nation.
